Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed March 21, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

1. Applicant argued that Kao does not disclose data control flags. However, the clock signal transmitted is used to control data reception at the receiver (col. 3, line 67 through col. 4, line 4).

2. Applicant argued that that Kao does not fractionally resample the data. However, in the present invention, resampling is considered to be decimation and interpolation (spec., page 50, lines 14-16). In Kao, the fractional resampling is performed by generally as decimation (col. 4, lines 7-10) and interpolation (col. 4, lines 15-20), where a certain percentage of samples are added or removed.

Drawings

Replacement drawings were received on March 21, 2005. These drawings are acceptable.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3, 5 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kao (US 4,815,109).

3. Regarding claim 1, Kao discloses a method of synchronizing data sampled by a first clock (fig. 2, item 14) to a second clock (item 54). The method comprises generating a clock error signal (SLIP signal from slip detector; col. 3, line 67 through col. 4, line 1) as a function of a data control flag (DERIVED CLKA; col. 3, lines 57-59) and fractionally resampling the data as a function of the clock error signal (col. 4, lines 1-4 and 7-20; col. 8, lines 1-3; fig. 5B, items 176 and 178; note: a percentage of samples are added or removed to provide fractional resampling of the signal; col. 5, lines 57-62).

4. Regarding claim 2, the data comprises voice (abstract, lines 1-6; col. 8, line 55).

5. Regarding claim 3, the data receive flag (fig. 4, CLKA) is periodically generated as a function of the first clock (col. 3, lines 57-58) and a data complete flag (fig. 4, CLK2) is periodically generated as a function of a second clock (col. 3, lines 59-64), where the clock error signal is generated as a function of the data received flag and data complete flag (col. 3, line 67 through col. 4, line 1).

6. Regarding claim 5, the data is sampled with a first clock and received data is partitioned into data packets (abstract, lines 1-6; col. 1, lines 37-41 and 42-45), where the data received flag is generated upon receipt of each of the data packets (col. 1, lines 42-45; col. 1, lines 20-37).

7. Regarding claim 11, Kao discloses a synchronization circuit (fig. 2, item 52; fig. 3) comprising an error generation unit (fig. 2, item 50) that generates a clock error signal (fig. 2, SLIP) as a function of an average far end sampling rate (col. 1, lines 23-25) and a near end sampling rate (col. 1, lines 49-53), and a sample tracker (fig. 2, item 52) for receiving sampled data packets (col. 1, lines 25-30 and 42-45) and fractionally resampling the sampled data as a function of the clock error signal (col. 4, lines 1-4; col. 3, lines 64-66; col. 1, lines 49-53).

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 18-29 are allowed.
9. Claims 4, 6-10 and 12-17 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
